ARTICLE APPEARED ON PAGE 44

NEW YORK POST 18 October 1984

Moynihan's turning the wrong faucet

Sen. Pat Moynihan offered the Sen- briefed by CIA Director William ate last week a fond farewell as a member for eight years of its Select Intelligence Committee.

It is a committee which he has served with diligence and distinction. All the more perplexing, then, that he chose not to offer proposals for its much-needed reform by reducing its leak-prone staff.

sate committee to have 40 staff mem- the Goldwater letter. bers when the House committee can A "grievous thing," laments Moyniget by with seven.

House and Senate committees of its aid should have been made to "silence to Nicaragian democratic mobile and should have been made to "silence" to Nicaraguan democratic rebels min-that counsel." ing Nicaragua's harbors last year. It is not the counsel, Senator, it is the

In fact, both committees, were leaks, were

Casey and his aides. All House members understood what they were told but — as an angry letter by Sen. Goldwater revealed when it was "leaked" by a staff committee member — some Senate members did not.

Moynihan revealed in his farewell that CIA representatives later sought the disciplining of a committee staff There is clearly no need for the Sen- member - presumably the source of han, that after eight years in which Instead, Moynihan raised the familiar the CIA has offered its "honest countheme that the CIA did not inform the sel" to the two committees an attempt